Work schedule and deadlines

We work on custom orders as time allows, so it is difficult for us to provide definite completion dates for restoration projects. If you require a fast turnaround or a definite deadline, I must be honest and say we are not the folks to be talking to. Another craftsperson may be better able to meet your time constraints. If you are willing to be flexible and patient, however, we will do a good job for you.

Due to our heavy fall and winter workload, we put all custom projects received after July 1st on hold until after the holiday season is over. We resume working on custom orders in February. Projects are completed in the order in which they are received.

If you are sending Rivet Bells, please read and initial this section:

Breakage: The old rivets must be removed from rivet-style bells. Bells sometimes crack or break when we remove these rivets. We do not offer any guarantee against breakage. We do not provide compensation for broken bells. We do promise that we will take all reasonable and customary care to avoid damage and breakage.

Fasteners: Rivet bells were originally installed on a strap with solid metal rivets (or sometimes screws.) We do not have the means to securely and reliably fasten bells onto a strap with rivets, so we will use solid-brass machine screws to reattach your bells. I have read this information about my rivet bells, and I accept these conditions:

Down payment: $75 for 1-9 bells; $125 for 10-19 bells; $175 for 20-29 bells; $225 for 30-39 bells; $275 for 40+ bells
